

Reference routes for cruise vessels over 150 m (length over all)

The routes are recommendations from the Norwegian Coastal Administration (NCA) based on our best experience. Ship dimensions taken into account are all cruise vessels which have called the given ports. The routes are not binding and they shall not replace any required navigational aids or navigation duties, including the rules at sea (COLREG) and norms related to sea duty. The routes shall not cause any change in responsibilities for the captain or officer in charge for safe navigation and maneuvering of his vessel.

When using the digital routes and other information on these pages, information such as ship type, weather and other traffic must always be taken into account. Vessels must always use last updated navigational charts to validate routes. NCA will keep routes updated regularly, and it is important to check that you are using the last version of the recommended routes (see <https://routeinfo.no>).
